"BUCKNELL LOOKS AHEAD"

THE 1944
Bucknell
L'AGENDA

To

Dean of Men

It is especially appropriate that we dedicate this volume to a man who is so keenly aware of the problems of war-time Bucknell. His versatility and engaging personality have made him not only a vital part of the administration, but also the friend and counselor of the Navy and civilian students.

Before entering college, he served from 1919 to 1922 in the 15th Infantry of the Regular Army in Tientsin, China. He then attended Bluffton College and Syracuse University. After teaching at Syracuse University for two years, he joined the faculty at Bucknell in 1930. In the classroom, he is scholarly but not pedantic; his wit and charm have made him one of Bucknell's most popular professors.

He has proved his versatility by acting as Head of the Counseling Committee, Co-ordinator in the Civilian Pilots' Training Program, and Deputy Air-Raid Warden. When the Navy came to Bucknell, he was appointed Liaison Officer for the University and the V-12 Unit. He is now working tirelessly in this new and difficult position.

We feel certain that this dedication will meet with the approval of countless Bucknellians. Not only has he worked for and with us, but he has become one of us. It is with pride that we dedicate this 1944 L'AGENDA to an inspiring teacher, a capable administrator, and a real person—Dr. Ralph E. Page, Dean of Men.

President, November Term

MARGUERITE GILL
President, March Term

STUDENT FACULTY CONGRESS

Enabling students and faculty to work together on common problems, the Student Faculty Congress acts as an advisory body for campus activities, fixes the budget for interest groups, and supervises the holding of class elections.

Twenty-three students and twelve faculty members, representing sixteen campus organizations, besides four V-12 representatives, compose the Congress. Supervision of the War Chest Drive, the Fourth War Loan Drive, and readjustment of the budget to a three-semester school year have been tasks of the Congress this year in addition to its regular functions.

The Executive Board for the November term was made up of Lee Boice, President; Elmo Pascale, Vice President; Marguerite Gill, Secretary; Joseph Doane, Treasurer. Officers for the March semester were President, Marguerite Gill; Vice President, Jack Baker; Secretary, Nancy Woehling; Treasurer, Joseph Doane. The group is advised by Dr. James A. Gathings on matters of policy and procedure.

Gathings, Crowder, Shields.
Second Row-- Baker, Bowers, Woehling, Gill, Boice, Harper, Doane.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The purpose of the women's student government at Bucknell is to work in co-operation with the University to establish rules for student government, and to maintain a social-educational balance in college life. Senate and the House of Representatives work together for the establishment of the procedures of an efficient student government. The two major activities which Senate and the House sponsor each year are the student-faculty Christmas party and the Christmas banquet.

The officers in Senate this year are Estelle Howley, President; Ruth Smith, Vice President; Elise Miller, Secretary; Norma White, Treasurer; Phyllis Waide, Social Chairman; and Mrs. Dorothy T. Dyer, Adviser.

Ruth Smith, President of the House of Representatives, and Estelle Howley, President of the Senate, talk over a mutual problem.

Standing—Arbogast, Bowers, Strouse, Waide, Novikoff, Williams, Boice.

Second Row Crothers, P. Follmer, Strittmatter, Bowers, Grimm, Ridgeway.

Third Row Gould, M. Follmer, Whipple, Biggs, Bell, Jenkins, Bode.

Board of Publications

The Board of Publications supervises all student publications including Bucknellian, L'AGENDA, and Student Handbook. It is composed of the editors and business managers of these publications, their faculty advisers, and several members of the administration. The Board determines matters of general policy as they relate to these publications and is responsible for the selection of the editors and business managers of each.

Women's Counselors

A group of upper-class women, selected for their ability to meet and get along with people, live in the Freshman dormitories to aid Freshman women in adjusting to college life. The group is organized under Dean Dyer.

Bucknell's Civilian Defense Council

Since air raid drills have been minimized this year, Bucknell's Council of Civilian Defense has retained only enough members to meet the requirements of the Army Eastern Command. Instead of concentrating its efforts on conducting drills, the Council emphasized in its activities the sale of war stamps and bonds among the student body and furthered the work of its salvage committee.

Elected as officers of the Council were Nancy J. Lightner, '44, President, and Phyllis T. Waide, '44, Secretary.

Miss Kathryn M. Stevenson
Editor of L'Agenda, 1944
Bucknell University
Lewisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Miss Stevenson:

Thanks for your nice letter. You don't know how happy I am to be honored with a spot in L'Agenda.

Here are your photographs. On of the backs of four I have marked the queens as one man would number them. I hope my choice will prove to be a popular one.

Cordially yours,

A. Varga

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

OFFICERS

President	- - - - -	HENRY PUFF
Vice President	- - - - -	TOM KINKADE
Secretary-Treasurer	- - - - -	BURR WILLIAMSON

Standing—Meyn, Williamson, Diring-er, Ungard.

Rushing week, intramurals, "Hell Week," houseparties—sound familiar—bring back memories. Yes, and memories they will be until Bucknell returns to peacetime, and V-12 is nothing more than someone's license plate. War or no war, however, fraternities are struggling to keep up their activities as much as possible.

With only three houses open to their own activities, fraternity affairs have fallen off considerably, so the council had very little business to consider. Most of the time was spent on a major project; namely, a fraternity paper for Bucknell service-men. With eight out of the nine active fraternities contributing, a four-page pamphlet was published to carry news that would be of interest to our fellow Bucknellians and brothers.

This year the council's activities were under the very capable supervision of Professor Parker, with Henry Puff, president; Tom Kinkade, vice president, and Burr Williamson, secretary-treasurer.

First Row, Left to Right—Felmly, Watts.
Second Row—Jenkins, Boice, Woehling, Darlington, Knister.
Third Row—Smith, Terrett, Whipple, Heller.

Pan-Hellenic Council is the inter-sorority organization, which is composed of two representatives, a junior and a senior, from each sorority. "Pan-Hell" has as its function, the regulation of rushing and other sorority activities.

This fall, rushing was held during the last week of November. Six open houses, which enabled rushees to look over every sorority, were followed by four invitation parties.

The Council devised a simplified program for wartime rushing to go into effect next year, which will include only one party with decorations and two informal parties.

Under the new plan, to be rushed, a freshman must have completed one semester, in which she has maintained a scholastic average of at least seventy. Rushing will be held twice a year, during the fall and spring terms.

Adviser for the Council was Miss Agnes Bradley. The graduation of the president, Lee Boice, in February necessitated next year's president, Mary Lou Jenkins, taking over for the remainder of the year.

Coaches Sitarsky and Ludwig and Co-Captains Matthews and Szot talk things over.

Fight team fight!

A study in expression.

Bucknell opened its second war-time football season in 1943 with great uncertainty in the minds of the players and the fans. Men from twelve different schools, representing twelve different systems of playing football were brought together to play on the same team. John Sitarsky, Bucknell's new football coach, ably assisted by Elwood "Woody" Ludwig, the new assistant coach, was confronted with the task of taking these different systems of ball playing and molding them into one.

The Bisons opened their season at Ithaca against the Redmen of Cornell. With a starting lineup that had only three returning Bucknellians, the men from Cornell eeked out a one-point victory by the score of seven to six. Although the team lost the opener, they proved that after so short a practice they could play together.

After losing to Cornell, the Bison eleven took it on the chin in three of their next four games, defeating Muhlenberg while losing to F. and M. Villanova, and Penn State. The first part of the season proved very disappointing yet only the Penn State game was lost by more than one touchdown.

The second half of the season proved just the opposite of the first with the Thundering Herd sweeping through to five straight victories. The Herd defeated Case, Lakehurst Naval Air Station, Muhlenberg, Temple and concluded their season with a stunning victory over the previously undefeated Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall.

Coach Ludwig became head coach previous to the F. and M. game when Sitarsky left for the army. Going into their last game with their eyes set on a post season game, the Diplomats were set back on their heels in the first minute of play when the Bisons jumped out into a fourteen-point lead. Holding the lead until the final gun, the Bison eleven won out by the margin of 21-13, thereby concluding a successful season with a record of six wins against four losses.

BASKETBALL

Coach Elwood Ludwig

Captain Frank Burns, A'S

The Bison courtmen had their most successful season in recent years in their 1913-14 campaign, winning nine games while being on the short end of the score only three times. With "Woody" Ludwig at the helm for the first time, the Orange and Blue quintet set a fast pace throughout the entire season, never letting up for one minute. The team was made up entirely of V-12 trainees, each of whom had played college basketball for a different school. Only one Bucknell letterman was among the starting five.

Forty men turned out for the initial practice, although the basketball squad had to be cut to twelve men. Getting off to a fast start, the Bucknell five won their first four games before being stopped by the powerful Muhlenberg team. After this loss, the Thundering Herd got back to their winning ways once more, only to meet defeat at the hands of the Villanova quintet in a heart-breaking overtime game. The only other loss the team suffered this year was at the hands of the fast-breaking Bloomsburg State Teachers five.

Among the teams the Herd defeated this year were Lehigh, Villanova, Penn State, Bloomsburg, Franklin and Marshall, New Cumberland Reception Center, and Muhlenberg's National Invitation Tournament team.

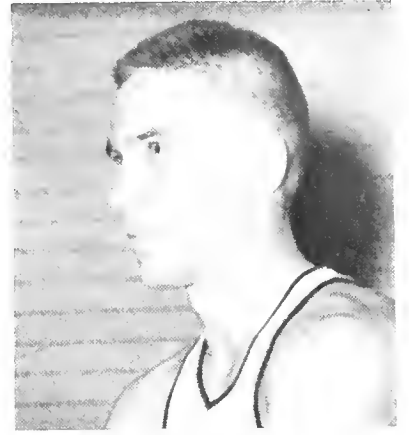

In one of the most brilliant games of the season, Bucknell defeated Muhlenberg at the Davis Gym by the close score of 39-37. The Bisons held the lead most of the game and protected it to the final whistle. Playing what was probably their best game of the season, the team looked better in the last game than at any other time during the season.

The Bucknell soccer team found it pretty hard going during the 1943 season winning only one game, tying two, and dropping four games in their seven-game schedule. The one win the team had this year was over the soccer eleven from Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

The team started off the season in pretty fair style, tying Penn State who at that time boasted of an All-American soccer player. After this first tie, the best the Bisons could do was to defeat and also tie Bloomsburg in their two scheduled games with that team. Coach Edwards' soccermen lost two close decisions to Muhlenberg both here and at Muhlenberg. They also lost to Army and Navy.

Lack of experienced players and also the lack of capable substitutes hampered the soccer team all year. Bill Gold, who was one of the few returning lettermen, captained the team throughout the whole season.

WRESTLING

Close, but not down!

Wrestling was added to Bucknell's list of intercollegiate sports this year. This is the first time in the school's history that the Bisons have been represented on the mats. Although the matmen started late in the season, they managed to wrestle in three matches before the end of the season.

The team was made up of experienced men from several different colleges. Lt. Young, Chief Specialists Lalley and Fridley, along with Bob Farley and Mike Kusturiss, coached the team through its short schedule.

The Bison wrestlers were victorious in two of their three matches this year, defeating Bloomsburg State Teachers College both at the Davis Gymnasium and at Bloomsburg. Their only loss was to the men from Muhlenberg in their last match of the season wrestled at Bucknell.

The wrestling team, like all other teams at Bucknell, was faced with the problem of having too little time to practice. The sport made a fine showing and will probably be kept on Bucknell's sports calendar.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

No restrictions on women's sports . . . in fact, freshmen to seniors inclusive spend three hours weekly suffering through all but regulation Navy calisthenics . . . but never let it be said that the fairer sex at Bucknell shuns the sports world. A complete sports program from November to June is sponsored and directed by the Women's Athletic Association, this year headed by Dorothy Bunnell, in co-operation with the Physical Education Department. With keen intramural competition comes the fun . . . bowling, basketball, and volleyball tournaments were on schedule this year with Kappa Delta copping the court championship and Kappa Delta, defenders of the softball trophy, also claiming the volleyball and bowling crowns.

Yes, this is war, but determined not to put out a L'AGENDA that shows it, Editor Kitty Stevenson challenged us to do it up right—with a padded cover, too. But no money. Lo, Advertising Manager Betsy Doughty staged an advertising campaign which surpassed any in L'AGENDA history—and brought home the padded cover. Strolling into the office, Betsy would announce with a sly grin. "Advertising hit six hundred today," to be sent out with the command of slave-driver Stevenson. "Go out and double it." Betsy did.

Then came the publisher's order, "All copy in by April 1." Handicapped by the semester's late start, we drove ourselves to make the deadline.

Owen ("Boom-Boom") Diringer, staff photographer and right-hand man, was always on the job, combatting a shortage of film, snapping campus doings day and night. Chief Stevenson's oft uttered expression of gratitude became "Isn't 'Boom-Boom' wonderful?"

Staff Editors were confronted with unprecedented problems—Nancy Woehling struggling to organize the senior section(s) when many couldn't say just when they would graduate—Betty Evans having to arrange special elections for some fraternities so that an officers' picture could be taken—Karen Nelson determining which activities were active—Audrey Bishop prying into the private lives of the V-12's—Warren Kistler pinching our limited supply of pennies to make our book a financial success—Assistant Editor Wythes taking over while the Chief dashed to Pittsburgh to do some morale raising.

An artist learned what a deadline is, when Carmen Marinier worked tirelessly to complete her sculptured figures in time to have them photographed. Mr. Wickey became so indispensable as to be an honorary member of the staff.

Those last days (and nights) were filled with very last minute work and worry. But Editor Stevenson kept everything under control and we made it. Sounds frustrating? Perhaps, but we had a wonderful time. And we did it all for you . . . hope you like it!

Delivering . . .

Continuing seven days out of every week, the Bucknellian functions as the news organ of the campus.

Every day is copy day, as Bucknellian news hounds delve for every rampant bit of news, be it an announcement of the next presentation of the Artist Course, class elections or a favorite professor's absentmindedness. V-12 staff members publish inside dope on service life and sports, indignant students air their views on the world and life in "Letters to Editor," and even some vociferous advertisers express their opinions.

Once copy and adds have been assembled and set (generally on Monday or Tuesday), the makeup staff and Managing Editor clip and paste, and clip again to give each story the news value placement it deserves; this staff also writes headlines designed to catch the reader's eye.

Sometime between Tuesday morning and Wednesday afternoon, the Editor, who has meanwhile been supervising proceedings with an eagle eye and sagacious criticisms, adds her editorial, generally a timely combination of fact and opinion. At this point the paper is pronounced "filled."

After last minute mistakes have been corrected and the paper "rolled off the press" on Thursday morning, the circulation staff takes over with the aid of the local taxi service, and distributes the Bucknellian to its various subscribers. About this time, the business manager seizes the weekly bills and sees to it that each creditor gets his due.

Is the staff through for a few days? Oh, no! Like Tennyson's brook, they go on forever, for they seem to gather news like a Sam bureau gathers dust. Tiresome? Just ask one of these embryonic William Allen Whites or Dorothy Thompson's sometime.

MUSICAL

Women's Glee Club

Mixed Chorus
and Symphony Orchestra

Bucknell's School of Music, in many ways, provides a means of expression for Bucknellians interested in musical culture, and by so doing, aids in preserving the Bucknell Way of Life.

The University Band has undergone many changes in its personnel and activities this year, as have most of the organizations. The presence of the V-12 unit on campus has provided new members to fill last year's vacancies, as well as new and important function for the Band. Every Saturday, weather permitting, the Band has accompanied the Navy and Marine units in their drill on the Davis Gymnasium playing fields.

During the football season, as in other years, the Band was always on hand, adding spirit and color to each game, cheering the team on to victory.

Under the combined efforts of Director Charles Stickney, Student Manager A/S Joseph O'Brien, and Drum Major Private Wilfred Jennings, the Band has continued to play an important part on campus and to maintain its present high position.

Another outstanding musical organization still functioning on campus, is the Women's Glee Club, composed of a group of specially chosen women voices under the direction of Miss Grace Jenkins and Student Manager Sally Fry. The twenty-second Annual Glee Club Concert was held in February. Since then the group has been working on selections in preparation for next year's concert.

The Mixed Chorus provides similar opportunities for both men and women in other concerts. The Sacred Chorus has presented choral music in the Baptist Church on Sunday mornings, as well as in Chapel and Student Church.

The Bucknell Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Professor William McRae, supplies orchestral accompaniment for Mixed Chorus performances. The orchestra affords an opportunity for students to increase their knowledge of orchestral music.

Cap and Dagger's new trick—variety show deluxe . . . the sudden sophisticated garb of the Rec Room . . . Schermann's genial M. C.'ing . . . and The Unexpected, arriving as a blackout that started a spontaneous songfest.

July 31, August 7, 1913 Cornelia Comes Out

The summer version of Casino Recque—a debut with a sense of humor . . . the terrific punch of Dylla's ad-libbing . . . Kay Davis' twisted handkerchief after that shy little presentation speech . . . the sparkle and finesse of Maggie Gill's decorations . . . the nonsense verses of the finale—"Amelia, Cornelia, and Herman."

October 2, 1913 Nothing But the Truth

Amazing discovery: that a wartime Cap and Dagger could cast and produce successful plays . . . the organ-toned boom that came out of Dick Hurley, mercenary bishop . . . the rocketing of Joe Doane's star of fame . . . dress rehearsal, when Mable and Sable's jewelry was noisier than the lines . . . a play plus fun, minus fuss.

CHRISTIAN

Representatives of the African Conference
The Indian Conference

War has brought about many changes at Bucknell, but the desire to keep alive the old spirit still lives. The Christian Association is one of those organizations doing their utmost to preserve the ways and Christian traditions of Bucknell which have become so much a part of us. Its work represents student leadership and interest on campus and in the community churches.

The Student Executive Council with the advice of Forrest Brown, General Secretary, and the Advisory Council under the chairmanship of Dr. Allan Halline, continues to guide the work of the Association.

Officers for this year were:

President	-	-	-	-	-	A S DON SHIELDS
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	MARGUERITE STROUSE
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	JACK BAKER
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	JANET LEACH

Trainees as well as civilians have shared in the activities of the Association. Bucknell has now extended its bounds to every land and every sea in the world. It is the Service Council that is responsible for keeping the scattered Bucknell family intact through the Bucknellian letters, and special address service.

One of the major emphases of the C. A. has been the sponsoring of a series of international conferences introducing Bucknellians to youth from every part of the globe.

in order that we might obtain a much clearer understanding of their problems and aspirations in relation to ours.

Every Sunday morning finds an enthusiastic group of students and leaders gathered at the President's house for coffee and doughnuts and discussions on Bible study, religious history, and world problems. Sunday evening worship services, which bring speakers representing the Christian faith of many lands, are held in the quiet atmosphere of Hunt living-room. Interest groups carry on after Student Church with programs of fellowship and discussion.

During the summer, the Freshman Centennial Club was formed for the purpose of training the present freshmen for leadership in the coming one hundredth birthday of Bucknell's founding. Under the guidance of the Community Service Council, Sunday morning nurseries flourish and the "Brownies" and Girl Scout groups increase in size. Trips to Cowan have been forfeited until transportation difficulties are gone, but an outdoor fireplace in the orchard has been constructed for the use of student groups.

The work of the C. A. moves on, striving always for the ideal goal of a world-wide community based on a just and lasting peace. As a member organization of the Student Christian Movement and of the World Student Christian Federation, the C. A. offers to members of every nationality, race, and creed a challenge to clasp hands across all differences and work together for that better world.

ASSOCIATION

The Service Council mails hundreds of Bucknellians every week to our boys in the service.

The "Coop" continues to thrive on home cooking and housekeeping this year, thanks to its ten enthusiastic members. The usual culinary mishaps occur, however, in spite of the fact that the Coop board usually boasts of the most delectable dishes. Dean and Mrs. Page will not soon forget the apple pie seasoned with salt instead of sugar; and no one will forget the butter tinted aqua-marine for want of any yellow coloring on hand. On the other hand, Coops still recall with pleasure Rosie's Italian Spaghetti and Jan's Pennywise steak.

Every girl in the house has one job each day which she shares with a partner, and each Saturday everyone goes all-out for a general cleaning. These jobs are not found to be very difficult or time-consuming, so the girls are active in all campus activities—the Christian Association, House of Representatives, L'AGENDA, Chorus, Glee Club, International Relations Club, Cap and Dagger, some honoraries, and Nurses' Aid. Many affiliations, classes, and courses are represented by the various members.

A particular privilege afforded to the "Coop" is that of having some of the outstanding chapel speakers and conference leaders as guests, as well as faculty and administration members. President Marts was here as a guest in November. Conference guests have included Miss Dharis Martin and Miss Evelyn Diggs, Mr. Simeon George-Coker, Miss Kasombi, and Miss Elsie Koestier. Dr. Mithrapuram Alesander and Dr. Charles J. Beyer were also guests at the house.

In January, Co-op girls held an open house attended by a large number of students and faculty. The parties held on holidays and birthdays have been no small part of Co-op activities. The Hi-Lite Hour, a fifteen minute nightly program of music, reading, or fun, is another well-established tradition.

One of our Sophomore members, Jan Stover, left school in February to attend Kathryn Gibbs School, and her place was taken by Betsy Coleman. The house now runs on a twelve-month basis, and will continue to do so as long as Bucknell is on a six-semester schedule.

HONOR HOUSE

Life at Honor House this year was one mad melange of bubble baths, birthday brawls, breakfasts, bull sessions, a bride, and Lowther. Three engagements and one secret marriage were the least of our worries. There was always peace and harmony, with the possibly exception of the bitter rivalry between the "Putt-putts" and "Cubes." We were normal on first floor, noisy on second, and oh so dramatic on third.

And we had admirers, too: one Joe, one Scharmy and a long list of Bobs. Honor House was the incubator for "Taffy and Joe," Sunday Canteens, "short talk," the entertainment for Blanchard's parties, "regular week-ends," late permissions, and "Love for Sale." And, oh yes, we studied, ate peanut butter, drank coffee, and wrote billets doux.

H. H. had a hap semest. It was div, but def!

The Radio Workshop functions as a laboratory where students interested in radio may learn its techniques and try out their ideas, by means of the production of a one-half hour program each week, broadcast over the Sunbury station, and daily campus broadcasts.

This is one of the youngest organizations on the campus, but in the past year its work has expanded and taken on a more professional tone. In the studio in Bucknell Hall today, Workshop members proudly display a growing collection of scripts, a miniature library, the personnel files, and the famous but unimpressive-looking oscillator. There are committees for every purpose—even to the Floor Engineer, who turns out to be a janitor.

To the members, Radio Workshop stands for Monday night meetings—"Let's think of something really original for next Sunday"—for the struggle to make ridiculous sound effects like tiptoeing on a gravel walk or a merry clinking of glasses; for fervent prayers that the script will time just thirty minutes; for that last minute Sunday rush, and then the blast of a train whistle right in the middle of the program; for the difficulties involved in changing records and making entertaining comments at the same time.

The radio audience, if it forgets all else, must recall "A Day in Radio," the hilarious satire which has been repeated for several civic groups since its first production in the spring of '43.

LT. JOSEPH FRANCESKI
Officer in charge of Marine Detachment

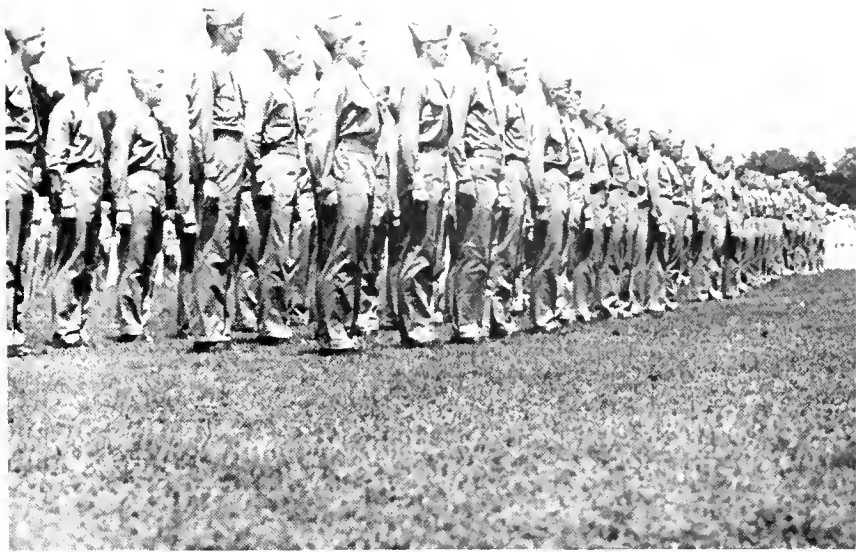

With the establishment of a Navy V-12 Unit on July 1, 1943, Bucknell welcomed the arrival of 600 Navy and Marine reservists.

At the beginning of the November term, new trainees moved in to fill vacancies left by men graduating, leaving for midshipman's school, or shipping out for boot camp, and the total Navy rostrum listed 355 sailors and 209 marines. On March 1, 1944, a similar procedure brought the number of navy men to 402 and marines to 136, producing a total of 438 service men on campus at the present time. Included in the 204 listing of new reservists for the current semester are 136 navy trainees who have been on active duty with the fleet and 13 marines who recently returned from combat areas.

Trainees attend classes with civilian students and play major roles in the academic, athletic, and extra-curricular activities of wartime Bucknell. However, life at Bucknell for a trainee is distinctly Navy life, complete with rigid discipline, official inspections and reviews, heavy scholastic schedules, and extensive athletic programs.

Residence for the trainees has been established in three dormitories "on the hill," and a former fraternity house has been transformed into a mess hall. Swimming instruction is given regularly at the Milton pool.

The complete Navy staff, under the supervision of Lt.-Commander J. E. Fleming, provides a new aspect for the Bucknell campus, a military unit distinctly independent of college life, yet so much a part of Bucknell today.

War Colored Bucknell

Defensive wars, we always have with us with a new slogan for every fresh slaughter. Wars to save the Union, wars to save democracy and to save civilization. Wars are wonderful saviors of the status quo—with all the wrongs monopolized by the enemy. The only thing that wars can't accomplish is to save us from more wars. Blood, suffering, and tears pay handsome dividends to our munition makers. It would certainly be rank heresy against the divine rights of the stockholders to eliminate these patriotic profiteers. Fools that we mortals be, we continue to hail patriotism and nationalism.

As the latest L'AGENDA goes to press, Bucknell continues her share in the war program. Normal life about the institution has almost ceased to exist. Our dormitories have acquired the vocabulary of a battleship, with drills and parades a familiar sight. Everywhere are well dressed officers and trainees in uniform and in the best physical condition. The country club atmosphere has disappeared, and everyone is on the ball. Annapolis doesn't have much on us. Fortunately so far, the cruellest wounds of the war to resident Bucknellians is the morning bugle. That is an alarm clock that can't be forgotten or turned off. For every sergeant is a public enemy number one against a good night's sleep. Naturally the Bucknell war clouds are always the blackest at 5:45 a. m.
